

NEWBOX

Euro-standard containers NB perforated

The perforated SGL-standard stackable containers of the Newbox have a design that is permeable to air and liquids. The continual intake of air means any contents are protected against waterlogging or condensation.

Applications

Perforated Newbox containers are particularly suitable for the hygienically safe transport or storage of a wide variety of goods, particularly foodstuffs.

Special types

All non-stock items are marked thus and available on request only.

