

Automatic Box

Container SGL 2000 AB

The stackable SGL 2000 container is the perforated variant of our Automatic Box. Reinforcements, different handling options and the high degree of dimensional accuracy guarantee trouble-free running.

These containers run particularly smoothly when being transported on roller conveyors and have optional access openings, and are suitable for both automated and manual handling.

Applications

The SGL 2000 container is ideally suitable for distributing goods at major distributors of food and non-food products.

Special types

All non-stock items are marked thus and available on request only.
